A MESSAGE FROM DSO MUSIC DIRECTOR

Fabio Luisi

Welcome to the 2026/27 season!

I am honored to continue serving as the Louise W. & Edmund J. Kahn Music Director of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra for the seventh year. One of my highest priorities as a music director is the connection between the orchestra and our audience. Since my first season, the orchestra and I have focused on developing joyful, spontaneous — and therefore truly authentic — performances to share with all of you.

The beauty of live symphonic music is found in being together, the orchestra with our audience, and we are grateful to be able to share these magical moments with you. This connection will be at the heart of our musical activities in the upcoming season, which promises to be fantastic and thrilling.

The DSO will present many exciting programs in the 2026/27 season, such as Mozart's Don Giovanni (opera in concert), Bach's St. John Passion, Mahler's Symphony No. 1, "Titan," two incredible world premieres and so much more. But I'd like to invite you to come to a concert simply to enjoy the experience and to let the music carry you away, regardless of what is on the program. I encourage you to listen boldly, unapologetically and with an open heart.

Music has the extraordinary power to exist where words alone cannot, offering us something intellectual or spiritual, or simply a world of beautiful emotions. I look forward to experiencing more of these moments with you this season.

Warmly,

Fabio Luisi

Your Guide to the DSO

Your experience begins the moment you step into the Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center.

THE MEYERSON

Designed by renowned architect I. M. Pei, the Meyerson is one of the most iconic buildings in Dallas and one of the most acoustically treasured concert halls in the world.

DINE AND DRINK

Make a reservation to dine at Opus, the Meyerson's restaurant, before a concert. Plus, enjoy wine, cocktails and light bites from the bars throughout the lobby. Drinks are welcome in the concert hall for most concerts.

PERFORMANCE PRELUDES

Attend a free Performance Prelude before any classical concert and become a student of the music you'll hear.

SYMPHONY SHOP

PRESENTED BY CAPITAL ONE

Explore official DSO merch and unique finds before and after your concert or during intermission.

NEW WAYS TO LISTEN

Experience the orchestra in a fresh format: one-hour concert, no intermission.

TCHAIKOVSKY Piano Concerto No. 1 in B-flat minor
TCHAIKOVSKY Suite from Swan Lake

A volcanic work of drama and lyricism, Tchaikovsky's Piano Concerto No. 1 receives a powerhouse performance from Tom Borrow, a "sensational" pianist who displays "a touch that's both light and powerful" (Cleveland Plain Dealer). Then, Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake suite transports you to a fantastical realm of heroic princes and enchanted swans, where love holds the power to break an evil sorcerer's spell.

Randall Goosby Violin

SCHUMANN Symphony No. 1 in B-flat Major, "Spring"
BRAHMS Violin Concerto in D Major

From moments of ethereal poetry to the foot-stomping finale inspired by Hungarian dance music, Brahms' Violin Concerto unleashes the instrument's expressive potential — making it the perfect vehicle for violinist Randall Goosby's "simmering heat, polish and power" (Musical America). Schumann's Symphony No. 1 closes the evening with a tribute to spring and nature's miraculous cycle of renewal.

VAUGHAN WILLIAMS Fantasia on a Theme by Thomas Tallis
BRAHMS Schicksalslied
SIBELIUS Symphony No. 2 in D Major

Sibelius' Symphony No. 2 blurs the boundaries of musical storytelling, evoking both Finland's majestic landscapes and its quest for freedom from Russian rule. Vaughan Williams' Fantasia on a Theme by Thomas Tallis opens the program with mystery and mysticism, while Brahms' Schicksalslied (Song of Destiny) offers hope and consolation in a choral setting of Friedrich Hölderlin's heaven-storming poem.

SUPPORT THE DSO

Champion Bold Listening

For more than 125 years, the Dallas Symphony Orchestra has been a cornerstone of our city's cultural landscape.

In 1900, the founding members and patrons of the DSO understood that a thriving arts community was vital to establishing Dallas as a major metropolitan center. Today, the DSO reaches more than 200,000 people annually, including more than 10,000 children, through more than 150 world-class performances.

Support of the DSO reverberates across the entire city through community initiatives that serve a broad range of Dallas constituents. A charitable gift to the Dallas Symphony Orchestra not only supports the DSO's work in the community today but also serves as an investment in Dallas' prosperity, identity and innovation.

Ways to support the Dallas Symphony Orchestra:

JOIN THE STRADIVARIUS PATRON SOCIETY

Your Stradivarius Patron Society membership supports the DSO's year-round operations, including the performances and community initiatives that make Dallas a better city to live and work in. Enjoy exclusive concert amenities, including complimentary and designated parking and access to the VIP Patron Intermission Lounge, as well as behind-the-scenes access and events with DSO musicians and guest artists.

CORPORATE GIVING

A DSO sponsorship supports your business goals through year-round visibility, access to an influential network and meaningful engagement opportunities for your clients and employees. Together, we can amplify your commitment to community, culture and connection in one of the fastest-growing regions in the U.S.
